

I am weighing in to support maintaining strong net neutrality under Title II of the Telecommunications Act. Anything less would be detrimental to the idea of a free and democratic society. Sincerely, Felice Steele